

The INTMA Precision Machining Scholarship is an annual tuition scholarship created by the Indiana Chapter of the National Tooling & Machining Association to promote the tooling and machining industry, and assist students desiring to advance their education and pursue a career in tooling and machining. Applicants should demonstrate a clearly defined career interest in the tooling and machining industry.

Successful scholarship applicants receive an annual award of up to $10,000 to cover tuition, books and tools expenses for two semesters. Awards are for one academic year only. Recipients may re-apply for a second scholarship.

Applicant Requirements:

Applicants should demonstrate a clearly defined career interest in the tooling and machining industry and either attend or plan to attend a trade school or technical college in Indiana. Additionally, the applicant must have maintained a 2.5 GPA at the last school attended.

How to Apply:

The scholarship is administered by the INTMA Foundation. Applications open on November 2, 2026 and close on March 1, 2027. Recipients will be notified by April 15, 2027. Applications must be submitted via the INTMA website.

About the National Tooling & Machining Association

The National Tooling & Machining Association (NTMA) is a US-based membership trade association with the collective power of 1100 thriving tool & die and precision manufacturing companies representing more than $35 billion in sales.
Since its founding in 1943, NTMA has remained relevant by changing with the times, focusing on the future of American manufacturing as exemplified by our members: small and medium-sized companies, many of them family owned or privately held.
NTMA has the know-how, resources and national presence to drive positive change and growth. Our growing membership is gaining momentum and bringing a new perception to precision manufacturing across the U.S.

About the Indiana Chapter

Founded on May 15, 1950, the Indiana Tooling and Machining Association (INTMA) is a precision manufacturing trade association for members who share similar interests and goals. The chapter is comprised of over 35 regular, associate, and educational members located throughout Indianapolis and surrounding areas. Our mission is to help Indiana manufacturers achieve business success through advocacy, education, networking, information, programs, and services.
